

The diagram illustrates a layout template for a multi-column document. It features a large green rectangular frame on the left side, which serves as a safety margin for image extension. To the right of this frame are three vertical rectangular areas, each defined by a blue dashed line (the safety line) and a red dashed line (the keyline). The first column is the widest, while the second and third are narrower. Arrows point from the text labels to the corresponding lines in the first column: a green arrow to the green frame, a blue arrow to the blue dashed line, and a red arrow to the red dashed line.
